Daughters of Nixon's Aides Attend White House Servics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sons and daughters of President Nixon's staff conducted an unusual White House Christmas worship service Sunday.

Nixon was the only adult who spoke at the service, talking briefly about efforts to build a better world for the youth of the nation.

"Christmas is a time especially for children," he said.

All of the Biblical readings were by six children of White House staff members. They were:

Deborah Fox, 19, daughter of Sanford Fox, protocol coordinator; Alexander Schultz, 12, son of Director George P. Schultz of the Office of Management and Budget; Valerie Rumsfeld, 14, daughter of Donald O. Rumsfeld, counsellor to the President; Susan Haldeman, 19, daughter of the White House chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman; Dolly Dent, 16, daughter of special counsel Harry S. Dent, and Wendell Colson, 16, son of special counsel Charles W. Colson.

Singing traditional carols at intervals during the service were members of the Columbus Boychoir of Princeton, N.J.

Following the service the Nixons received their approximately 300 guests—members of the staff of the President and of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew—in the Blue Room. Coffee and pastries were served in the State Dining room.

Tallest Santa At Brackenridge

Christmas will be Texas-size at Brackenridge High School this year when the San Antonio Independent School District will lay claim to the tallest Santa Claus certainly in San Antonio and perhaps in the nation.

Carl Kirsch, a 7-foot 2-inch junior from Brackenridge High School will make his Santa debut Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in Brackenridge's auditorium during their annual Christmas Choral and Band program, which will also feature a performance by the SAISD's pre-school children and traditional Christmas songs.

Urban Living Costs Average Family of 4 $10,664 Yearly

WASHINGTON (AP) — It costs $10,664 a year for a family of four living in a city to maintain an intermediate standard of living, the government estimated Sunday.

It also figured a $6,960 annual cost for the same size urban family to live at a lower level, and $15,511 at a higher level.

The report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the family living costs, figured for the spring of 1970, were about 6 per cent higher than a year earlier because of inflation.

The report did not include if, but adding another 3 per cent for the rise in living costs since spring would boost the three family budget estimate, other $7,168 at the lower level, $10,893 intermediate and $15,976 at the higehr level.

Compared with the lowest family budget estimate, other government figures show some 45 million rank-and-file workers—more than half the nation's work force—averaged only $121 a week last month, or -61292 a year.
